

The Early Success Clinic Collaborative invites you to a special conversation

“Early Child Care & COVID-19: The Science of Transmission, Safe Practices, Stress and Resilience”

Thursday, September 10th from 6:30-8:30 P.M.

Join early childcare providers, health experts, policy makers and administrators to discuss safe and responsive early childcare practices during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Panelists include:

Naomi Bardach, MD, Associate Professor, UCSF Pediatrics and Health Policy

Theodore Ruel, MD, Professor, UCSF Pediatrics, Pediatric Infectious Disease Physician

Abbey Alkon, RN, PhD, Director, UCSF School of Nursing California Childcare Health Program

Bobbie Rose, RN, Child Care Health Consultant, UCSF School of Nursing California Childcare Health Program

Cheryl Williams-Jackson, PsyD, Modesto Junior College, Professor Child Development

Co-sponsored by:

UCSF Benioff Children's Hospitals

UCSF Department of Pediatrics

UCSF Center for Child and Community Health (CCCH)

UCSF California Childcare Health Program

UCSF Collaborative to Advise on Re-Opening Education Safety (CARES)

Alameda County Office of Education

Hively

UCSF Benioff Children's Hospitals

UCSF Department of Pediatrics

Register Here

or

Scan the QR Code

Hively

ALAMEDA COUNTY
OFFICE OF EDUCATION
L. Kane-Martin, Superintendent

Center for Child and Community Health

UCSF

University of California
San Francisco